QUALITY AND ENVIRONMENT POLICY

NEW ENERGY FVG Srl operates in the environmental sector by providing services aimed at protecting the environment through the proper management of waste and the promotion of its recovery. The interventions are aimed at the withdrawal and recovery through the production of SRF (Solid Recovered Fuel) from non-hazardous waste and their selection in order to obtain fractions recoverable and exploitable.

Maintaining excellent relations based on reciprocal trust with the public authorities and local communities, while protecting natural resources are two of the company's primary objectives.

Through the implementation of a Quality and Environment Management system, the company management is committed to working in compliance with EN ISO 9001, EN ISO 14001 and Regulation (EC) 1221/2009.

The improvement of the Integrated Management System in all its parts and its continuous adaptation to the evolution of the corporate reality and the reference regulatory setting are a fundamental base for NEW ENERGY FVG Srl to successfully pursue its objectives for quality and environment.

With respect to this Integrated Policy and within its commitment to formally pursue it, NEW ENERGY FVG Srl declares to:

- keep under control the environmental impact that could be caused by the company business in order to prevent any polluting phenomena or disturbance of the population. This commitment is also addressed to the development of new business, which is analyzed in advance to reduce its environmental impact and adopting the technologies available on the market which are economically viable;
- respect the environmental legislative requirements applicable to the company's activities and respect all provisions levied by the monitoring and authorization officers and, more generally, satisfy the applicable requirements;
- continuously improve the integrated management system;
- continuously improve environmental performance through the adoption of programs and duties of more restrictive objectives, where possible, for the parameters established by Italian and EU law;
- through continuous training and accountability, involve personnel and increase their awareness of company policies and the Integrated Management of the system adopted to achieve the preestablished objectives and, generally speaking, increase the company efficiency and the environmental awareness. The objective is for this awareness to be understood and applied within the organization;
- maintain high levels of education, information, and training of the personnel;
- identify non-conformities early and intervene quickly with corrective actions;
- effectively and increasingly efficiently check the service provided to the customer and status of safeguarding the collectivity;
- involve and increase awareness of waste producers, assisting them with a policy that allows the optimization of recovery processes through waste sorting in order to obtain greater yield in the waste product recycling;
- maintain the willingness to dialog and collaborate with customers, public authorities, local communities, and other interested parties;
- make available and communicate with interested third parties the inspiring principles for its working system and the environmental objectives to be pursued;
- conduct all management, administrative, and operation interventions in regard to safety regulations and prevention to protect workers' health;
